From the publisher

It is so exciting to be able to share more of our growing children's list with you through our new international rights partner, The Rights Solution.

Our children's publishing team may be small, but we are mighty in our output and in our commitment to publishing clever and talented authors and illustrators. We are already known for publishing a wonderful range of picture books, and we pride ourselves on punching above our weight, book for book, on our entire list.

Something you will find in our 2023 program and beyond is our love for nurturing debut creators, like artist Brentos, whose Australia: From Dawn to Dusk (p.26) will soon to be joined by Australian Animals: From Beach to Bush in November 2023. And we continue to build beautiful backlist ranges with creators like powerhouse author-illustrator Jess Racklyeft whose books can be found throughout our catalogue.

We are dedicated to broadening our range of books to grow alongside our readers, from birth through to young adult. We recently launched two new junior fiction series, Sadie and Itty Bitty Kitty, to bridge the leap between our substantial picture book list and our bestselling middle grade fiction list (pp. 10-11), and we have exciting new teen and YA fiction in the works for 2024 and beyond.

It is our aim to deliver books that entertain and inform our young readers (and their grown-ups) as well as leaving readers a little better off for having read them. This is a guiding principle you will see in all our commissioning and publishing.

All best,

Tash Besliev

JUNIOR FICTION

NEW SERIES

Itty Bitty Kitty

By Maddy Mara and Noémie Gionet Landry

Itty Bitty Kitty LOVES empty boxes, string and sleeping on clean washing. She HATES being called cute. She is almost a tiger, after all!

This is a warm, funny and accessible series for early readers. In each story, Itty Bitty is pushed out of her comfort zone. Itty Bitty's adventures may be domestic in setting, but they are epic in scale!

Titans of Australian junior fiction Hilary Rogers and Meredith Badger have collaborated again under their pen name Maddy Mara. The duo have delicately balanced laugh-out-loud humour with heartwarming life lessons.

Each book contains three short, simple stories to help emerging readers grow confident with reading.

JUNIOR FICTION

Sadie

By Lana Spasevski and Joanie Stone

Say hello to Sadie Le, the fresh face of Australian junior fiction! Sadie is a superstar baker with a big heart. She creates sweet and colourful recipes for special events in her life, showing the power of food in bringing families and communities together. But things often don't go according to plan.

In each story, the unstoppable Sadie shows that no matter what life throws at you, you can face it with generosity, heart and, of course, a fabulously sweet treat!

Everything about this series, from its typesetting to its narrative structure, is geared to set up newly independent readers for a lifetime love of chapter books. The series is specially designed with three stories in each book to give kids a sense of satisfaction and achievement. Each book is lightly illustrated to help guide readers from picture books and hybrid graphic fiction into novels.

Get Your Act Together, Doris Kozlowski

By Jo Dabrowski

Doris Kozlowski's year is not off to a great start. Her best friend ditched her, her family is weirder than ever and, to make it all worse, she has to take part in the school talent show. Determined to get things back on track, Doris sets out to win the talent show, win over her classmates and win her best friend back. That is, if her scheming Babcia stops trying to 'help'. And her classmates fall into line. And her mum stops being weird for five minutes.

This is a hilarious yet touching middle grade debut about embracing who you are, finding your true friends and the unstoppable magic of a good musical number.
